

P R O C L A M A T I O N

WHEREAS, in the great World War crisis, the young men of our country offered their services in its preservation, and

WHEREAS, many gave their lives or became disabled or left widows and orphans to be cared for, and

WHEREAS, part of the cost of so doing is met by the sale of poppies on what is called Poppy Day,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, E. W. Cragin, Mayor of the City of Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada, do hereby proclaim Saturday the 11th day of May, 1935, official Poppy Day in said city.

Be generous in your donations so that through this medium the widows and orphans and the disabled veterans may be aided and properly provided for.

Honor the dead by helping the needy living.

Dated May 7th 1935.
