re. As-Built Structural Adequacy of Steel Stud Curtain Walls

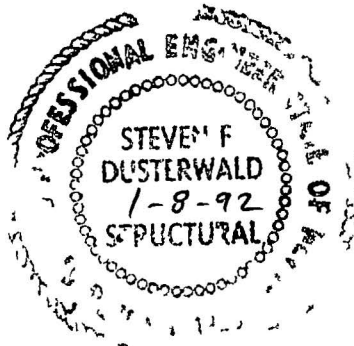

Gentlemen

I hereby certify that I performed a cursory visual inspection of the steel stud curtain wall framing for the above referenced project at about 3 00 p m on January 8, 1992 All of the framing has been constructed with sheet metal screws from the studs to the intermediate horizontal tracks, with the tracks secured to the structural steel with pieces of tracks screwed or shot pinned to the steel beams All aspects of this curtain wall framing appear to have been constructed in a stout and workmanlike manner, in general conformance with the original structural design calculations and project drawings All of the walls appear to be plumb and true within normal and customary construction tolerances

If you have any questions concerning this or any other matter, please feel free to contact me

Yours truly,

Steven Dusterwald
