The National Alliance of Preservation Commission's FORUM is the only national conference focused around the needs and issues of preservation commissions and commission staff. The interactive conference blends traditional educational sessions, discussion panels, mobile workshops and tours, providing participants with essential training and networking opportunities. FORUM is held every other year in interesting destination cities and brings local commission members from across the country together with representatives from local, state and national organizations, governments and federal agencies. It is supported by the National Conference of State Historic Preservation Officers, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, Preservation Action and the National Park Service.

About FORUM 2016

Presented by the National Alliance of Preservation Commissions with major support from the National Park Service and the Alabama Historical Commission.

lecture format featuring one or more speakers presenting different aspects of a single project or issue with time for audience Q&A. Panels will typically include 2-4 speakers presenting differing perspectives on a single topic or issue, with a single moderator. The Moderator will typically engage the panelists in discussion to probe central themes/issues.

- Roundtable – facilitated discussions amongst participants that are intended to allow for attendees to share experiences, best practices, and/or problem solve around a central topic. Roundtables typically feature some introductory remarks/presentations, but devote the bulk of the timeslot to discussion and report-back.

Audiences

We anticipate that FORUM 2016 attendees will represent a broad spectrum of interests in historic preservation, planning, and cultural resource management, from both traditional and some not-so-traditional perspectives. By including the Alabama Trust for Historic Preservation, we will be able to bring together individuals from various arenas within the preservation movement, creating a special synergy for FORUM 2016.

- NACP's core audiences are the citizen members of local historic preservation commissions and design review boards, municipal staff, consultants, local elected officials, State Historic Preservation Office staff, and Federal agencies, including the National Park Service.
- Core audiences for the Alabama Trust for Historic Preservation include design, planning and cultural resource consultants, heritage tourism professionals, citizen advocates, and history buffs.

The attendance for FORUM 2016 is expected to exceed 400 people from across the country. Given NACP's national scope, we expect to attract attendees from all corners of the United States, and from communities of all sizes and demographics. Given the proximity of Mobile to the dense population centers of Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, and Georgia, the Committee expects to see particularly strong attendance from the surrounding region.
