** STAFF REPORT ****

APPLICATION REQUEST

This is a request for a rezoning from R-3 (Medium Density Residential) to R-4 (High Density Residential) on 8.6 acres at 2301 Valley View Boulevard.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The proposed project calls for the conversion of an existing storage building into six apartments, resulting in a density of 26.27 dwelling units per acre. This increased density would require a Rezoning of the subject site from R-3 (Medium Density Residential) to R-4 (High Density Residential). The density of development that is allowed by the proposed R-4 zoning district is not compatible with existing development in the area.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

A) Related Actions

- 1976            Apartments were constructed on the subject site.
- 04/13/06        The Planning Commission recommended approval of a General Plan Amendment (GPA-12164), Variance (VAR-12168) and Site Development Plan Review (SDR-12128) concurrent with this application.

B) Pre-Application Meeting

- 02/17/06        Staff noted the following issues at the pre-application meeting:
- All off-street parking needs to comply with Title 19.10
  - A Variance will be required to allow 346 parking spaces where 351 are required.
  - Staff suggested that the applicant meet with the Building and Safety Department to discuss building code issues.
  - The applicant is required to hold a neighborhood meeting in conjunction with the related General Plan Amendment application.

C) *Neighborhood Meetings

Per policy set forth in the city of Las Vegas application packet, a neighborhood meeting for the related General Plan Amendment (GPA-12164) is required to be held with the surrounding property owners. The applicant is requested to hold this meeting within 14 days of the closing date of this application. In accordance with the above, on Thursday, March 16, 2006, a meeting was held at the Spanish Oaks Apartments clubhouse/leasing office, located at 2301 Valley View Boulevard. Two people attended and had the following questions/comments:

- Concerns about what was going to be built adjacent to the northern boundary of the property.
- Would the project hurt the surrounding property values?
- Is the project going to add landscaping?
- Architect noted that no new buildings would be built.
- An existing single story storage area is proposed to be converted into six studio units.
- The Architect walked outside to show the two residents where the storage units were located.

F) General Analysis and Discussion

The applicant is proposing to convert an existing storage building into six apartments. Because this will increase the density of development of the site to 26.27 dwelling units per acre, the applicant has requested a Rezoning from R-3 (Medium Density Residential) to R-4 (High Density Residential) on the subject site.

The change in zoning would permit an increase in the density of development from a maximum of 25 units per acre to a maximum of 50 units per acre. This is a substantial increase in the density of residential development compared to the densities of development adjacent to the subject parcels.

The proposed zoning district is not recommended as it is not compatible with the R-PD6 (Residential Planned Development, 6 units per acre) to the north and east.

FINDINGS

In order to approve a Rezoning application, pursuant to Title 19.18.040, the Planning Commission or City Council must affirm the following:

1. The proposal conforms to the General Plan.

With approval of the companion General Plan Amendment (GPA-12164) to an H (High Density Residential) land use designation the proposed development will be in conformance to the General Plan.

2. The uses which would be allowed on the subject property by approving the rezoning will be compatible with the surrounding land uses and zoning districts.

The proposed project calls for the conversion of an existing storage building into six apartments, resulting in a density of 26.27 dwelling units per acre. The proposed project is out of character with adjacent development and not compatible with the R-PD6 (Residential Planned Development, 6 units per acre) to the north and east.

3. Growth and development factors in the community indicate the need for or appropriateness of the rezoning.

The surrounding community consists predominately of single-family homes on lots which are zoned R-PD6 (Residential Planned Development - 6 Units Per Acre). The density of development that is allowed by the proposed R-4 (High Density Residential) zoning district is not compatible with existing development in the area.

4. Street or highway facilities providing access to the property are or will be adequate in size to meet the requirements of the proposed zoning district.

Valley View Boulevard, an 80 foot wide Secondary Collector as designated by the Master Plan of Streets and Highways, can provide adequate transportation access.
