MAYOR GOODMAN called forward SHERI CANE VOGEL, Administrator, Senior Citizens Law Project, to join him in recognizing CHRISTY BECKWITH, Paralegal of the Senior Citizens Law Project, as Employee of the Month for July. He commented that MS. BECKWITH was selected Employee of the Month because of her work ethic and for securing additional funding for the Senior Citizens Law Project through grants from the Nevada Law Foundation, the Pro Bono Foundation and the Division for Aging Services. She also made the operation of the office more efficient, which benefits the constituents and the department.

Additionally, MS. BECKWITH is very active in the community. She was recently presented with the Liberty Bell Award by the Clark County Bar Association and was presented with an award from the Susan G. Komen Foundation for her participation in the annual Race for the Cure. She is also a licensed foster parent of two brothers.

MS. VOGEL commented that MS. BECKWITH started with the department as a legal secretary and went to school to become a certified paralegal. She is a wonderful employee who always goes beyond the call of duty to assist seniors. She is very deserving of this award.

MS. BECKWITH thanked the Mayor and MS. VOGEL for their kind comments. She remarked that she loves her work, as well as her fellow employees, whom she thanked for all their support.
