CITY COUNCIL MEETING OF: AUGUST 6, 2008

DEPARTMENT: OFFICE OF COMMUNICATIONS
DIRECTOR: DAVID RIGGLEMAN

SUBJECT:

RECOGNITION OF ERNEST J. MAY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENTS FOR READING 10,000 BOOKS

Minutes:

A videotape was shown, but a copy was not submitted.

COUNCILMAN ROSS welcomed students from Ernest J. May Elementary School along with their Principal, MS. MINDY MARTINEZ and MRS. KATE DUSCHAYME, Literary Specialist. As the students assembled at the podium, COUNCILMAN ROSS showed a video of his visit to the school and the reason for his pink-dyed hair. Despite having lost his challenge, COUNCILMAN ROSS graciously accepted a future challenge that the children would read 35,000 books in a nine-month period.

On behalf of the City Council, COUNCILMAN ROSS presented August 6th, Ernest J. May Go Pink Day.

ADDITIONAL CEREMONIAL

MAYOR GOODMAN asked Student Intern JAMAL MARTIN to join him at the podium to be recognized for completing his internship with COUNCILMAN BARLOWS office. MR. MARTIN shared his plans to attend Georgia Tech University and to become a Mechanical Engineer.

Seeing a group of Boy Scouts in the audience, MAYOR GOODMAN requested they join him at the podium. After introducing themselves, they informed the Council that they were in attendance to earn their Communications Merit Badge.

On a regular basis, MAYOR GOODMAN noted that many students from various schools visit his office. Most recently, he welcomed a group of young ladies and extended an invitation to them to attend the Council meeting to observe and learn more about the functions of the City Council. MAYOR GOODMAN introduced MADISON FRITZ, Student of the Year, attending Ober D'Vore & Hal Elementary School and MACKENZIE POWEN from John W. Bonner Elementary School.
