MAYOR GOODMAN invited DAVID RIGGLEMAN, Director of the Office of Communication, and KCLV Channel 2 Station Manager, CHANDIE HOSMER, to the podium, to recognize KCLV Channel 2's 10-year anniversary. KCLV is an important part of the City's priority of having an open government. The Channel broadcasts the Council and Planning Commission meetings live and runs many other programs that allow citizens to see the inner workings of government.

KCLV Channel 2 won its first Emmy in 2009 for the program "Las Vegas Gangs", highlighting the gang problems in Las Vegas, the law enforcement on the front lines and the resources available to combat this problem.

The Mayor presented the proclamation to MR. RIGGLEMAN, who thanked the Mayor and City Council. MR. RIGGLEMAN stated that KCLV Channel 2 was launched on January 5, 2000, and the first broadcast was the scheduled City Council meeting. He took everyone back in time by showing the first broadcast of ten years ago.
