* STAFF REPORT ****

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

This application is a request for a Variance to allow an existing enclosed carport to have a four-foot side yard setback where five feet is required for a single-family residence at 4718 Lorna Place. There is no new roof line with this request as the applicant has enclosed the previously existing carport. Staff recommends denial as this a self-imposed hardship. If denied, the applicant will be required to return the carport to its original permitted condition.

ISSUES

- The side yard setback Variance request equals a 20% deviation from standard code setback of 5 feet.

ANALYSIS

The applicant enclosed the entire carport and installed a garage door without the proper building permits. When an inspection was completed, it was noted that the applicant would need to file a request for a Variance, as the west wall was only 4 feet from the west property line. There was no new foundation or roof line built. The violation is the result of an extension of the existing wall on the carport. Although the applicant claims the enclosure was done to mitigate the noise generated from the commercial property adjacent to the west, this is not a legal justification pursuant to Title 19.18.070 for approval of a Variance request; therefore, staff recommends denial.

FINDINGS (VAR-38328)

In accordance with the provisions of Title 19.18.070(B), Planning Commission and City Council, in considering the merits of a Variance request, shall not grant a Variance in order to:

1. Permit a use in a zoning district in which the use is not allowed;
2. Vary any minimum spacing requirement between uses;
3. Relieve a hardship which is solely personal, self-created or financial in nature.

Additionally, Title 19.18.070(L) states:

“Where by reason of exceptional narrowness, shallowness, or shape of a specific piece of property at the time of enactment of the regulation, or by reason of exceptional topographic conditions or other extraordinary and exceptional situation or condition of the piece of property, the strict application of any zoning regulation would result in peculiar and exceptional practical difficulties to, or exceptional and undue hardships upon, the owner of the property, a variance from that strict application may be granted so as to relieve the difficulties or hardship, if the relief may be granted without substantial detriment to the public good, without substantial impairment of affected natural resources and without substantially impairing the intent and purpose of any ordinance or resolution.”

No evidence of a unique or extraordinary circumstance has been presented, in that the applicant has created a self-imposed hardship by encroaching 1 foot into the established five-foot side yard setback. The alternative of returning the carport to its original condition would allow conformance to the Title 19 requirements. In view of the absence of any hardships imposed by the site's physical characteristics, it is concluded that the applicant's hardship is preferential in nature, and it is thereby outside the realm of NRS Chapter 278 for granting of Variances.
