How will be award funds being used?

The Nevada Preservation Foundation is requesting $15,198.00 from the Centennial Fund in order to assist the Beverly Green/Paradise Village proposed historic districts in (1) being named to the Las Vegas Historic Property Register and (2) research and develop content as well as train docents for a historic walking tour in each of these mid-century districts. The first section of this project is historic designation that we estimate being completed by late 2014 or early 2015. The second portion of this project will be the development of the two walking tours. Research for these tours will begin in May 2014 and will launch at the end of 2014 with the designation of these two new historic districts. I will discuss each of these portions in turn.

Portion A: Beverly Green/Paradise Village Historic Designation

Obtaining a place on the Las Vegas Historic Property Register is - for good reason - a detailed process. After a historic survey has been completed, it is important that the process of obtaining historic designation allow for significant time to educate residents on the protections this designation will provide them, deliver information on how the process works, present financial benefits that exist for historic districts, and allow all residents the time and opportunity to voice their opinions.

While it is important to provide time for discussion and education, the requirement that a neighborhood demonstrate that 51% of the homeowners in a proposed historic district support the formation of the district requires that residents have the time, skills, and training to undertake a lengthy and complex community organizing project. To date, only two neighborhoods have successfully completed the preparatory process and submitted an application. From among these two, only John S. Park was successful in obtaining historic designation. In fact, some of the problems that the Westleigh neighborhood encountered, including misinformation and opposition, may have been mitigated had there been an objective third-party who could speak to the misunderstandings and bring clarity and support to the neighborhood's case.

The Nevada Preservation Foundation has developed a four-step program for obtaining historic designation and is among the first organizations in the United States to provide such a service to homeowners, business owners, and neighborhoods. We supply organizing and advocacy oversight, provide a means for neighborhoods to collaborate in their efforts, and bring much needed expertise in historic preservation.

As part of our organizing and advocacy efforts, the Nevada Preservation Foundation guides neighborhoods, homeowners, and business owners from start to finish in their bid for historic designation. As this particular grant application is for work with a neighborhood, I will outline the program as it functions for our neighborhood clients.

The first step of our program involves simply getting residents better acquainted with their neighborhood. The Foundation divides a neighborhood into more manageable sectors comprised of 15 to 30 homes. Residents take responsibility for one or more sector and with the form supplied by the Foundation they use the Clark County Assessor's website to determine if the homes in their sector(s) are owner occupied or investment properties. Because the goals of homeowners and property investors diverge in some areas, we use this initial information to determine which set of publications will go to each owner as we move into step two.

The second step of our program involves education and outreach. It is usually in this step that the three required public meetings are held in the neighborhood. It is also during this step that our "Top 10 Reasons for Historic Designation" publication in the either the homeowner or investment owner version is sent to each owner in a proposed historic district along with a letter from the Foundation explaining the historic designation process and the role of our nonprofit. Letters and summaries of publications are translated into Spanish and included in this initial packet. Within days of receipt of the "Top 10 Reasons" publication, residents and Foundation volunteers begin visiting homeowners in the proposed district and telephoning - when possible - investment owners to answer questions on historic designation and discern the owner's position on obtaining this designation. If a homeowner or investment owner is in support of historic designation, volunteers will ask them to sign the Homeowner Letter of Support (two-sided in both Spanish and English). All volunteers will be trained through the Foundation on best practices and the details of historic designation before contacting homeowners and investment owners. The data (e.g. support, oppose, undecided on historic designation, questions asked, comments made) will be recorded and returned to the Foundation with support/opposition being tracked on a map of the proposed historic district.

The third step of the Foundation's program involves evaluation and analysis of data collected through the required public meetings, canvassing, and telephone calls. The Foundation will determine percentages of support, opposition, and undecided. If support is below the 51% threshold or opposition is above 15% (5% more conservative than the city's requirement), we will work with the undecided and persuadable opposition to see if there is a way to move them into the support column. Once the neighborhood and Foundation feels there is sufficient support and minimal opposition to moving forward, we will move on to the final step of the program which involves assisting the neighborhood with the completion of the application for historic designation, attending the pre-application conference with the historic preservation officer, and submitting the application.

Once the application is in front of the Historic Preservation Commission, the Foundation will be there to speak on behalf of the neighborhood. Our aim in these meetings is to minimize the prevalence of misinformation and bring clarity. We will work closely with the residents to ensure that their case is clearly and accurately conveyed to the HPC, the Planning Commission, and the City Council. Should the Beverly Green/Paradise Village application be turned down, the Foundation will work with the neighborhood residents to determine the best path forward at that time.

The Nevada Preservation Foundation's four-step program provides not only the guidance and advocacy that neighborhoods like Beverly Green/Paradise Village are in need of but it also mobilizes and makes the best use of residents' time toward obtaining historic designation. This grant will allow the Foundation to work with the residents of Beverly Green/Paradise Village to ensure that our historic neighborhoods maintain their integrity and value far into the future.

Portion B: Beverly Green/Paradise Village Walking Tours

Cultural heritage tourism is defined by the National Trust as "traveling to experience the places and activities that authentically represent the stories and people of the past and present. It includes historic, cultural and natural resources." Cultural heritage tourism can include such diverse activities as concerts, art exhibitions, folk arts, and tours among many others, all with the proviso that they are tied to real places and people past and present.

Cultural heritage tourism is increasing worldwide. Returning to the National Trust for Historic Preservation, they state:

"One of the reasons cultural heritage tourism is on the rise in the United States is that travelers are seeking out experiences that are distinctive, not homogenized. They want to get the feel of a very particular place or time."

One means through which individuals can have such a distinctive experience is by participating in a historic walking tour in one of Las Vegas's residential neighborhoods. Many Las Vegas tourists are seeking another view of our city. Given that Beverly Green and Paradise Village are located adjacent to the Las Vegas Strip, they are well positioned to draw in out-of-town tourists looking for something different in this trip to Las Vegas. Moreover, many of our own residents are rediscovering historic Las Vegas. It is the aim of the Foundation to tap into both of these segments of visitors to bring to life mid-century Las Vegas and thus promote our important historic resources.

However, it is crucial to the success of such a tour that there also be neighborhood buy-in and participation. At the Foundation's January meeting with the Beverly Green/Paradise Village residents, we discussed with them the possibility of starting guided walking tours in the two proposed districts. As part of what will in the future become a suite of tours provided by the Foundation, each neighborhood would have a tour in their area only once a month. Members of these tours would be guided and overseen by a trained volunteer in order to provide a quality experience for the visitors and to ensure that homeowners will not be disturbed. The response from the residents was positive, so the Foundation has decided to move forward with identifying funding for this endeavor.

Creating a successful walking tour can bring significant awareness to the architectural resources within a tour area. However, putting together a tour that is informative, engaging, and fun for visitors requires time and attention as well as educational expertise. There are several steps in creating a fun and educational walking tour. I briefly list them below:

1. Compile research completed on Paradise Village and Beverly Green, supplementing with additional research as necessary.
2. Create initial list of potential tour stops.
3. Inventory main interpretive feature of each potential stop.
4. Study all interpreted features to locate a common theme for the tour.
5. Cull potential stops down to 10 – 12 final stops.
6. Create to a route that is walkable, enjoyable, and helps the theme to cohere.
7. Write an engaging script that is also easily memorized by docents.
8. Developed color brochure for tour visitors that provides a brief overview of the tour and major stops.
9. Develop training materials for docents.
10. Conduct docent training, including practicing the tour in its entirety several times.

The Nevada Preservation Foundation, then, would use part of this grant money to research and develop two walking tours as well as create a training program for docents. The focus of each walking tour would be somewhat different. The Paradise Village tour would focus on architecture from the early 1950s to demonstrate the innovative nature of this development as well as educate visitors on the local importance and prominence of the district's architects, Walter Zick and Harris Sharp as well as John Replogle, to our mid-century architecture. The Beverly Green tour would concentrate on the prominent mid-century residents (e.g. Louis Prima & Keely Smith, Lou and Angie Ruvo, Francis Liberace) and notable architects (e.g. Hugh Taylor, David Freedman). As stated at the outset, we anticipate launching both the Beverly Green and Paradise Village walking tours in conjunction with the designation of these neighborhoods as historic districts.

The Nevada Preservation Foundation is the only nonprofit in the state of Nevada focused on assisting neighborhoods, homeowners, and business owners with obtaining historic designation. In many ways, historic designation is an important key to economic development and community stability in the Valley. Historic neighborhoods are more appealing to new residents, help to stabilize home values, and incentivize local business creation. By providing assistance to neighborhoods through the Nevada Preservation Foundation, the work of obtaining historic designation is made lighter for residents. Moreover, through the creation of historic district walking tours, not only might we create jobs but also engender in others an appreciation for our historic mid-century resources.

What is the historic significance of your project/activity to the city of Las Vegas?

- Assist with the HPC's mission of saving the city's legacy and heritage by increasing the number of neighborhoods protected through the Las Vegas Historic Property Register
- Make obtaining designation on the Las Vegas Historic Property Register more accessible by providing residents with organizing and advocacy support
- Increase awareness of Las Vegas's midcentury heritage through educational walking tours aimed at local and nonlocal visitors alike

What are the key activities and timeline of your plan?

2014

Because much of the Historic Designation portion of the project takes place out-of-doors, we will delay the start of this portion to ensure that canvassing will take place in late September after the worst of the heat has passed. Budget Justification

Personnel

Project Director (historic designation): $2931.00 grant request

The project total amount was calculated based on a total service hours of 108.5 at $36 an hour. These services include creation of sectors within the Beverly Green and Paradise Village proposed historic districts, preparation for and attendance at public meetings, creation, publishing and mailing of materials to educate homeowners and investors on the benefits of historic designation, running all aspects of one survey in each of the proposed historic districts, attend and provide support at all city of Las Vegas meetings.

Project Director (walking tours): $6920.00 grant request

The project total amount was based on a total of 303 work hours at $36 an hour. These hours include all aspects of developing to historic walking tours, which includes:

- Compile research already completed on Paradise Village and Beverly Green, supplementing with additional research as necessary.
- Create initial list of potential tour stops.
- Inventory main interpretive feature of each potential stop.
- Study all interpreted features to locate a common theme for the tour.
- Cull potential stops down to 10 – 12 final stops.
- Create to a route that is walkable, enjoyable, and helps the theme to cohere.
- Write an engaging script that is also easily memorized by docents.
- Developed color brochure for tour visitors that provides a brief overview of the tour and major stops.
- Develop training materials for docents.
- Conduct docent training, including practicing the tour in its entirety several times.

The number of hours was determined with the help of the organization that runs historical tours at Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin property.

Publishing

"Top 10" Booklet: $3950.00 grant request

The project total amount was based on a cost estimate of $10 per copy by Kinko's printing. Development of the Top 10 booklet is built into the personnel costs under historic designation above.

Miscellaneous Letters and Correspondence: $112.00 grant request

The project total amount is an estimate of the cost of printing a bilingual letter to accompany each Top 10 booklet as well as to cover any additional correspondence with homeowners in the two proposed districts.

Postage: $1135.00 grant request

The project total amount is an estimate based on approximate weight of Top 10 booklet - which will be mailed to all homeowners in each proposed district - as well as an estimate of miscellaneous postage costs.

Spanish Language Translation: $150.00 grant request

The project total amount was estimated using similar projects that were completed by translators hired through the website ELance.

Equipment

The Nevada Preservation Foundation and the Beverly Green Association will cover all equipment costs. The project total amount is for an Epson EX7210 Projector that can be used for presentations to larger neighborhood groups and in conjunction with the portable projection screen can be done virtually anywhere neighborhood groups find it convenient to meet. The project total amount is for a Camp Chef 120-Inch Portable Indoor/Outdoor Movie Theater Screen to be used in conjunction with the digital projector.

Advertising & Miscellaneous Expenses

The Nevada Preservation Foundation will cover all costs of advertising and brochures for the two walking tours. We will also cover insurance costs for volunteers as this policy will cover volunteers giving their time to other projects outside of this particular endeavor.

Current Projects

We have divided our current projects into two categories: (1) Clients and (2) Programming. Below is a brief summary of each of these projects under their appropriate category.

Clients

1. The Liberace Mansion

- We are working with the new owner of the Liberace Mansion on two projects that will ensure the home will be preserved for some time to come. First, we are working to obtain a Special Use Permit from the Clark County commission that will allow the new owner to convert the home into a house museum. Second, we are collaborating with Commissioners Giunchigliani and Scow to expand the new historic preservation ordinance in Clark County to include individual homes and other structures (e.g. the fabulous Las Vegas sign). As part of this expansion they are considering creating a Historic Preservation Committee within the county. Once this ordinance has been revised, we will work on behalf of the Liberace Mansion owner to obtain historic designation for this home both at the county level and the State Register.

2. Paradise Palms I

- As our first neighborhood client in Clark County, we are working with them to obtain historic designation using the historic neighborhood ordinance that was recently created. We will be calling the first of three neighborhood meetings in Paradise Palms I in the next week with the intent of meeting with all residents of Paradise Palms I sometime in mid-April.
- Depending upon grant availability, we may also consider creating an architectural tour in this original portion of Paradise Palms. Further, it is the intent of the residents of Paradise Palms to continue working toward historic designation for additional portions of this large planned community. We anticipate working with Paradise Palms for some time to come.

3. Beverly Green/Paradise Village Proposed Historic Districts

- The Foundation has met with residents of the Beverly Green Neighborhood Association several times to discuss moving forward with historic designation. The Neighborhood Association has made a commitment to fundraising and volunteering significant time toward obtaining historic designation. It was decided to wait until the outcome of this grant process to proceed further.

Programming

1. Historic Preservation Month speaker series

- As part of our educational mission, we have organized weekly talks and presentations for Historic Preservation Month in May. All dates and locations are not decided at this point, but below is the draft schedule:

- May 6: Historic Preservation and Neutra VDL: Ken McCown of the Downtown Design Center
- May 15: Mid-Century Interior Design: Ken Wolfson of Ken Wolfson Design
- May 19 - 23: The Photography of Julius Schulman: Heather Protz of the College of Southern Nevada
- May 26 - 30: Understanding Brutalism: Jeff Wagner of NSite Design and the College of Southern Nevada
- We are also planning to produce quarterly programming. This quarter's program will take place in May. In collaboration with the Neon Museum, we will produce a panel discussion entitled The Mid-Century Home. It will be held at the Neon Museum on May 20, which is Mid-Century Architecture Day in the state of Nevada.

Long Range Plan

As the Nevada Preservation Foundation is a relatively new nonprofit and the creation of a long-range plan is part of the Foundation's goals for our first year, the plans below are only preliminary. The Foundation's board of directors will be meeting over the summer months to revise and finalize this plan.

Overall, the first three years of the Foundation's work will focus on advocacy, educational outreach, preservation, and establishing revenue streams to ensure financial stability in the long-term.

Year One

Clients and Programming

- Continue to work with our existing clients (i.e. Beverly Green, Paradise Palms, Liberace Mansion).
- Establish quarterly educational programming, the first of which will be held on May 20 in conjunction with the Neon Museum.
- Continue to explore additional community partnerships and clients. We are currently having conversations with Councilman Barlow regarding the Westside School and have been approached by other organizations with historic projects.
- Continue working toward a possible public-private partnership with UNLV's Special Collections to preserve and curate the Hugh Taylor collection and other architectural ephemera.
- Begin working on content for Beverly Green and Paradise Village walking tours.

Grants, Funding, and Revenue

- Submit at least three grant proposals, including this Centennial History Grant, the Peter H. Brink Leadership Fund Fellowship through the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and the Historic Preservation Fund grant through Nevada's State Historic Preservation Office.
- Create a Service Provider Directory. This Foundation will vet service providers (e.g. interior designers, electricians) for their ability to provide period-appropriate services and/or to work with the systems found in older homes. Service providers will pay to advertise in our annually published directory as well as on our website.
- Develop major donors and programming sponsors.

Operations

- Complete and submit our 501(c)(3) application. While we are a registered nonprofit with the state of Nevada, we operate under the Metro Arts Council's nonprofit incubator program.

- Build our board of directors from the current five-member board to an 11-member board.
- Increase membership to 150 members.
- Explore possibility of bringing in one or more interns.

Year Two

Clients and Programming

- Bring walking tours in Beverly Green and Paradise Village online. Explore other historic tour options and look into leasing a vehicle for summer months and/or tours that cover larger areas.
