Esther Reincke

To the Commission for the Las Vegas Centennial,

Effective May 2, 2019, I will be retiring from the City of Las Vegas as Senior Management Analyst and the Executive Director of the Commission for the Las Vegas Centennial.

I began my event career in 1998 when I joined a team at Las Vegas Events. My position grew from a secretary to an event producer. I worked on events such as the National Finals Rodeo, the 1991 Miss Universe Pageant, the Bud Light National Triathlon Championships and the Bud Light Hydroplane races at Lake Mead, just to highlight a few. I learned quickly about the minor details that can make or break an event and my career took off.

In 1994, as the Fremont Street Experience was putting their operating team together, I was offered a position as special events coordinator. I left a great job and family at LVE to start a new and exciting career at FSE. After two years as an event coordinator, I was promoted to Vice President of Marketing and Special Events. I was responsible for everything from the canopy to the ground. I spent 10 great years there and then in April of 2004, I was offered a unique opportunity to join the city of Las Vegas planning and executing the events for the 2005 Centennial Celebration.

I have enjoyed every minute of my career at the city. I have had the tremendous opportunity of leading two US Conference of Mayors, two IMLA (attorney) Conferences, and endless events.

My highlight definitely has been serving as Executive Director of the Commission for the Las Vegas Centennial for the past 15 years. We have seen so many great events, signs, landmarks, and projects preserved and protected through this funding source. Who knew that we would still be doing this 15 years later!

I am sure the staff at the Planning Department will continue to work diligently with this board in the future.

Thank you for all your support over the years.

Sincerely,

Esther Reincke
